Annual Meeting 2012

February 22 – 25, Las Vegas

Riviera Hotel
290 Las Vegas Blvd., South
Las Vegas, NV 89109

SASci's upcoming winter/spring meeting will take place in conjunction with the Society for Cross-Cultural Research (SCCR) and the AAA Children & Childhood Interest Group (AAACIG).

We welcome your contributions and look forward to exciting research, inspiring debates and an amicable get-together!

Call for Papers

Our meeting is open to all topics and discussions and we will find a panel for your individual paper. Alternatively, you are welcome to submit your own panel or sign up for already forming panels and roundtables on:

- Cognition and Cross-Cultural Research
- Anthropological Perspectives on Evolutionary Psychology
- “Science and non-science in anthropology: Irreconcilable differences or odd couple?”
- “Bringing empirical theory and formalism closer to the experienced world”
- “Has the four-field approach to anthropology run its course?”
- “What are important questions anthropologists should be asking?”

You can also take opportunity of the workshop format to organize workshops for our younger members or take part in the student poster session.

Deadline for Abstracts:

Nov. 30th 2011

Students

SASci values and encourages student contributions at our annual meeting. We offer plenty of opportunity for you to

- join discussions
- get advice from experienced scholars
- connect with people working on similar topics
- make first experiences in presenting your research results to a diverse audience
- improve your rhetorical skills
- and get valuable feedback in a friendly and productive atmosphere.

Becoming a member

As an open and dynamic group we would like to enable membership for everyone by keeping fees as low as possible:

Professional membership dues are $ 10 per year.

Student membership is free!

You are not required to be a member of the American Anthropological Association to become a member of SASci.

However, if you already have a AAA membership you can also join the Society for Anthropological Sciences (SAS) section.

To become a member of SASci please sign up at http://anthrosciences.org/csac/signup.xsp!

You are very welcome to join the SASci list-serve and participate in our discussions at any time, regardless of membership status.

What is SASci?

The Society for Anthropological Sciences was organized to promote empirical research and social science in anthropology. The members of SASci want to further the development of anthropological science as empirical knowledge based on testable theory, sound research design and systematic methods for the collection and analysis of data. We seek to fulfill the historic mission of anthropology to describe and explain the range of variation in human biology, society, and culture across time and space.

We welcome scholars from all backgrounds and value the different shapes and shades anthropology as a social science can take.
